GUIDE 2025/6

Congratulations,

YOU'RE PREGNANT!

Congratulations, you're having a baby!

Whether you're a first time mom or a veteran with 7+ babies, your maternity portraits are some of the most important milestone pictures you can have. The pregnancy 'glow' isn't just an old wives tale & I believe that the 'glow'is visible in every expectant woman.

Maternity portraits are not just about documenting your body & belly, they are a way for you to celebrate the strength of your body & the growing miracle inside. You are pregnant for such a short time compared to the lifetime you'll spend with your children.
That fleeting time that you are pregnant is so precious & once your baby arrives, it's hard to remember what it was like to still have that wonderful belly. Maternity sessions is the perfect way to dress up & immortalise this time.

SOME Helpful TIPS

- schedule your session between 29 & 32 weeks of pregnancy
- prepare a short brief of the look & feel you would like
- avoid very bold & busy patterns on your clothing
- if you feel you're getting too big & uncomfortable consider scheduling your session earlier than the prescibed term
- bring two pairs of shoes along; one to walk around in & a cute pair for the full length photos
- if using see-through clothing please be sure to match your undergarments accordingly
- if including siblings, schedule your shoot around your little one's naptime
